The Las Vegas Optic contains the following marriage notice: So Jim Crane is married again. Jim would rather be in the state of matrimony than any other state in the union.
He ought to make a good husband from the practice he has accumulated, but heaven and Las Vegas knows if he has plenty room for improvement.

A City of Mexico paper says "it is said that a movement is on foot to organize a club here which will be a strictly gentlemen's club. Papers will not be mailed to the tables and tobacco will not be looked up for fear of being ravished." How about the umbrellas? Are they exempt from appropriation by gentlemen in Mexico, when not branded with the owner's name?
